Welcome Message

On behalf of the Scientific Committee, it is our great pleasure to welcome you to the Acute Medicine Symposium 2025.

This year's symposium is dedicated to the timely and evolving field of acute medicine, with a focus on the immediate and early management of adult patients presenting with diverse medical emergencies. Our comprehensive program brings together leading experts to share the latest insights, clinical strategies, and evidence-based practices across a wide spectrum of acute medical conditions.

We are confident that the sessions will provide valuable learning, foster professional exchange, and enhance the quality of care delivered in acute medical settings.

We thank you for your participation and look forward to a productive and engaging symposium.
